Okay, so these are the issues AAW will cover; let's work my "outlook" around these – I still think going with prior plan (chemicals, pesticides, PFAS, and experiences in the Region) will work. In terms of experiences in the Region, Emily Bender in R1 can give you some talking points from our year in review which just came out. Bender.emily@epa.gov

Coincidentally, I just got off the phone with Andrew Wheeler's speechwriter. Here is the plan for his 25 minute talk:

- His vision for the Agency
- Internal reforms at EPA
- Touch on 3 big regulatory actions: WOTUS, CPP and CAFE replacement
- Touch on the settlement with FIAT/ Chrysler

Matt Leopold is on the air panel.

Pam – see Alex’s note below asking what the EPA Acting Administrator and GC will cover. I believe you told me Matt Leopold was on the air panel. Please let Alex know anything you have.

Thanks

Since the acting administrator and the general counsel are also on the program and probably need to be a careful about what I cover. Can you let me know when and on what they are speaking so I’m sure not to overstep. For example larger agency priorities should likely be addressed by Andrew not me. I thought I could focus on the outlook for chemicals as well as PFAS. Certainly I can talk about the region.

Pam Esterman just called me to remind that we are all on a panel next Thursday morning at 830 for the annual conference. We are return players as we were also together doing this last year (although Alex has now changed jobs).

Alex – Andy Wheeler and Matt Leopold are also speaking at the Conference.

Dan will introduce all of us but we do not have a moderator.

Scott – in the past you have had overview slides. Are you doing the same this time? If so, would suggest you go first to set the stage.

Alex – was hoping you could cover both current priorities and your past experience in the region.

I can go last. Attached is the paper that Bob and I did on supreme court litigation (which we will cover at 11 am) so I will not cover any of that.

The band is coming back together. Let me know if we should arrange a call.
